The Survival Systems Playbook

How to Capture Leads, Nurture Them Automatically, and Close Sales Without Burning Out

Introduction: Why You Need a Survival System

Most businesses don't fail because the idea is bad. They fail because the founder is juggling too many things: posting content, chasing leads, sending DMs, forgetting to follow up, then missing sales because the checkout link was hidden.

Think about it like this: if you're still writing names in a notebook, or copy-pasting the same DM to ten people a night, you're already behind. Big companies automate this entire flow—and you can too.

This playbook is your step-by-step system for survival. It has only three pillars:

1. Get leads
  2. Nurture them
  3. Close them

Part 1: Capturing Leads

Concept

A “lead” is simply someone who gives you permission to contact them again. Email is still king here—it's direct, it's yours, and no algorithm can take it away.

Tools: GetResponse + Manychat (or native IG automation)

Step-by-Step

1. Set up a landing page in GetResponse

- Headline: Offer something specific (“Get my free guide on AI tools that save 10 hours a week”).
- One input: Email.
- Button: “Send me the guide.”
- Connect it to your main GetResponse list.

2. Use Manychat to capture Instagram comments/DMs

- Example: Post a Reel saying “Drop ‘three’ in the comments and I’ll send you my setup.”
- Manychat sees the comment “three” → auto sends a DM → collects their email → pushes it into GetResponse.
- That’s free list growth while you sleep.

Real World Example

A fitness coach runs an IG Reel: “Comment ABS if you want my 10-minute ab routine.” The comment triggers a DM → they drop their email → instantly receive the PDF workout. Now the coach has them on an email list where she can upsell her $97 coaching plan.

Part 2: Nurturing Leads

Concept

Most people don’t buy on Day 1. They need time to trust you. Nurturing is like planting seeds: you water them with valuable content until they’re ready.

Tools: GetResponse Autoresponders

Step-by-Step

1. Email 1: Deliver the promise

- Subject: “Here’s your Survival Setup”

- Keep it short: “You asked for the setup. Here it is. Save this email.”

2. Email 2: Quick win

- Teach something small they can do right away.
- Example: “Here’s how to tag leads by source so you know where your best clients come from.”

3. Email 3: Proof and authority

- Share a client story or your own results.
- Example: “I cut my lead follow-up from 2 hours/day to 0 minutes using this system.”

4. Email 4: Offer

- Transition to your paid product or service.
- Example: “If you want me to set this up for you, here’s the link.”

Real World Example

An e-commerce brand offers a free “Holiday Sales Checklist.” Every new subscriber gets:

- Day 1: Checklist delivery
  - Day 3: “How we sold $50K last Black Friday”
  - Day 5: “Here’s our best tool stack”
  - Day 7: “Work with us to double your sales this season”

Part 3: Closing Sales

Concept

Once someone’s warm, don’t make checkout complicated. A single clean page wins.

Tools: Stripe

Step-by-Step

1. Create a Product in Stripe
  - Example: “Survival Setup Pro Package” $97.
2. Copy the Stripe Checkout Link
  - Add it to your thank-you page, emails, or DM.
3. Tag buyers in GetResponse
  - Use Zapier to say: “If someone buys on Stripe, tag them as Customer in GetResponse.”

Real World Example

A freelancer offering website audits sets up Stripe for $149. In their email sequence, the CTA button links directly to Stripe Checkout. The process is frictionless: no invoicing, no back-and-forth, just “pay now, get your audit.”

Part 4: Scaling the System

Once the basics work, you can scale:

- Add UTM links to track where leads come from (IG, TikTok, ads).
  - Use Zapier to log all new leads into Google Sheets. That way you can filter by source, export lists, or share data with a VA.
  - Connect Slack or Discord notifications so you get pinged every time someone opts in. Keeps morale high and makes it easy to follow up if needed.

Wrap Up

This system works whether you're a coach, a musician, a dropshipper, or running SaaS. You don't need twelve tools, five assistants, or all-nighters. You need:

- One tool for leads (GetResponse)
- One automation layer (Manychat → email)
- One payment processor (Stripe)

That's it. Master these, and you'll survive anything the market throws at you.
